

Bumkins Has Always Been Lead Free!

Baby Products Company Continues to pave the way for safe, reliable products amidst National and International Recalls

(Scottsdale, Ariz.) – Bumkins Finer Baby Products, a baby accessories company, puts child safety first. All Bumkins baby products, including their signature waterproof SuperBibs® are lead, PVC and phthalate free.

“There has been much worry and speculation from parents lately about what products are safe for their children, said Jakki Liberman, President of Bumkins Finer Baby Products. “Our goal is to relieve that worry for parents by only offering products that are free from any contaminants, including lead. Our waterproof bib products are 100% polyester - not vinyl. We select our fabrics very carefully, especially with our award winning waterproof products. Our customers know we don’t cut corners when it comes to quality. For this reason, we also still make these products in the USA, which is very unusual these days.”

Parents across the world have recently been shaken by the numerous reports of lead and other harmful chemicals in childrens’ toys and baby accessories. Certain vinyl bibs have been recalled from Wal-Mart Stores and other major retailers due to lead contamination. Some bibs were found to have contained lead as much as three times the level allowed by law. Bumkins signature waterproof bibs are lead, PVC and phthalate free, all while maintaining their softness and flexibility.

“Parents trust retailers to choose safe products,” said Liberman. “Retailers need to take the extra time to educate themselves and realize that providing a safe product should come before low price.”

Bumkins Finer Baby Products is based in Scottsdale, Arizona and was founded over fifteen years ago by Jakki Liberman, who through necessity, developed the All-In-One Cloth Diaper to assist her in caring for her four children. Bumkins has grown to offer an ever-expanding line of premium baby apparel and accessory products with a strong focus on function and design.
